

MOUNT VILLA

DK

"Mount Villa" is the artist name for composer Paulo Andruszkow from Copenhagen. Mount Villa is a DIY dream pop solo project that dances in a mix of 80s synthwave, uplifting pop melodies, and cinematic jazz atmospheres. It is an energetic and sensitive sea that presents an emotional journey where the emotional experiences, highlights, and reflections together open the doors to a personal and dreamy universe.

Post-punk.com venue writes: "Danish Act Mount Villa Captures 80s New Wave Energy and Desire. Dreamy, melancholic, and pictorial, Mount Villa's fiery taste is reflected in those emotional parts of transformation".

Paulo previously had the solo project Fuji Dream, which was featured on P3 Barometer in 2015-2016, and released the lo-fi album 'Fifth Floor View' under the former record label Idiot Disc Records and was featured at VICE venue. After that, he had the psych and post-punk project JUDEX (2017-2019) and released the album 'Side Street Show' in collaboration with producer Jens Benz (Ice Age, Modest, Moon Duo, etc.) and primarily performed in small clubs mainly in Copenhagen and Aarhus.

In 2022, the single 'No Call' debuted on radio P6 Beat, and he collaborated with cinematographer Sebastian Bjerregaard on his second single 'Wish', which received positive reviews from online venue Post-Punk.com and V13 Media in Canada, Vancouver

The new single 'Glitter' from forthcoming debut album 'Hour of Glitter' (out on May 23th.) is an energetic and emotionally charged song that delves deep into the pulsating stream of life. With intense emotions and sharp observations, it explores the inner landscape of a human soul longing to break free and unfold its full potential. The song paints a picture of an inner journey where the flow of thoughts and feelings collide and merge, and where the hope of freedom and self-expression rises to the surface. The video was shot in Norway over a summer by director Sigurd Bleken.
